Thursday, May 24, 2007 - Texas-based Locke Liddell & Sapp LLP and Lord Bissell & Brook LLP, a national firm headquartered in Chicago, have signed a Preliminary Term Sheet to merge the two law firms. If a merger is consummated, the combined firm, Locke Lord Bissell & Liddell LLP, will have approximately 700 attorneys with offices in Atlanta, Austin, Chicago, Dallas, Houston, London, Los Angeles, New Orleans, New York, Sacramento and Washington, D.C.

Locke Liddell & Sapp's Managing Partner Jerry Clements and Lord Bissell & Brook's Chair Thomas Jenkins jointly announced the proposed merger of equals. Clements will serve as Chair of the new firm. This potential merger is subject to negotiation and execution of mutually acceptable transaction documents and partner approval, which Clements and Jenkins expect to occur no later than the third quarter. A combined firm will have gross revenues of approximately $400 million, placing it among the top U.S. law firms listed in American Lawyer's "AmLaw 100" annual rankings.

"Both firms bring an excellent reputation and have strong legal capabilities focused on providing clients with a broad range of legal services to meet their increasingly complex needs," said Clements. "Our two firms share a similar vision of growth and diversification. Both firms are committed to finding ways to better serve our clients with greater resources. We are thrilled and honored about the prospect of merging with Lord Bissell. Their lawyers are of the highest professional and ethical caliber and well-respected throughout the legal community."

"Our firms complement each other very well and the combination of both firms will put us in a better position to offer solid expertise across a broader range of practices and industries from offices located throughout the United States and in the UK," added Jenkins. "We are excited with the opportunity to join with Locke Liddell, a firm held in the highest regard, with a commitment to legal excellence. It is also very important that we have found a merger partner with a similar culture.
